how do i add it How can I set ALSA as my default sound driver for all users? It keeps reverting to pulseaudio, even though ALSA is on and the devices and pulseaudio are not even installed ok it says it needs dependency Currently the user settings in /etc/pulse/client.conf is empty, so it seems pulse is just writing its own config file to replace any previous config files for alsa.

how do i restart xfce? it didnt seem to be in the gui nvm i need help compiling something on ubuntu Manoeuvre:

ctrl+alt+backspace (or alt+sysrq+k) no, that stopped my desktop and opened up terminal but it says I need the package libasound2-dev but i dont see that i have all the required packages yet still cant get it to work ? !compile Compiling software from source? Read the tips at (But remember to search for pre-built!packages first) well im getting confused on whats even required !libasound2-dev !find libasound2-dev Package/file libasound2-dev does not exist in maverick Found: libasound2-dev,
